MARKET FOR B. C. FRUIT IN BRITAIN

Fruit Trade Commissioner Deprecates Export Of Too Many Varieties

And Small-Sized Fruit

Before a small but extremely attentive and highly interested audience, addresses on fruit marketing and the Windsor subjects were delivered in the Windsor Hall last evening by Mr. R. C. L. Clarke, Chief Dominion Fruit Inspector, and Mr. J. Forsyth Smith, Canadian Fruit Trade Commissioner, London, England, and the important facts they brought to the attention of their hearers undoubtedly drove home the necessity of regarding the Old Country as a basic market for Canada's fruit. This charge was taken by Mr. J. E. Reekie in his capacity as a member of the directorate of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, who introduced the speakers as men who had done hard and effective work on behalf of the producers of the Okanagan.

The first to address the meeting was Mr. Clarke, who commenced his remarks by observing that during the fifteen years he had been officially associated with the fruit-growing industry the standard of the Okanagan pack had been continually bettered. He wished to emphasize the fact that there was nothing autocratic connected with the department he represented and that all orders as to packing regulations, inspection, etc., had been made from time to time at the suggestion of representative bodies of fruit producers and shippers. Nowadays, Okanagan fruit could expect to have to meet more competition and it would be necessary to extend the present standard.

Therefore it would be highly necessary to keep on improving the quality of the pack. He would point out that it was an erroneous idea that large quantities of Extra Fancy apples should be shipped as such. There was only a limited market for apples of that grade, and if this shipment of a very large percentage of extra-grade fruit was continued as a special grade, it would only lower the quality of the other packs, whereas it would be best to improve the latter. The lower grades were only packed to conform with the requirements of the Fruit Marks Act, fruit shipped from this district would be of no better quality than that sent to the market from the second-class apple-growing districts.

Continuing, Mr. Clarke remarked that far too many very small-sized apples were grown and shipped. These took as much out of the trees as those of a better size and they damaged the market both at home and abroad. It cost money to thin the crop, but unless it were done, the result was that poor apples had to be handled and shipped.

He hoped that all fruit growers throughout the province would become members of the B.C.F.G.A., the only organization in this province which could represent the Provincial and Dominion governments as representative of the growers as a whole. Without the work done in the past by that organization, fruit growers would be encountering under far more difficulties at the present time. He was glad to address such an interested audience, but would cut his remarks short in order to give Mr. Forsyth Smith an opportunity of speaking at length.

Mr. Forsyth Smith, after stating how pleased he was to be able once more to enjoy the exhilarating climate of the Hawaiian Islands after living among the mists, fogs and rains of the Old Country, plunged at once into his subject, that the marketing of the Canadian fruit in the United Kingdom. He remarked that he was pleased to note a better feeling in the Okanagan as regards the prospects ahead of the fruit industry and that he was able to state on this part that this feeling was to a large extent justified. He hoped that what he would have to say would strengthen it.

dealing with the status of B.C. apples in Great Britain, the speaker pointed out that the establishing of a name for an apple could only be done through shipment of fruit of the best quality and of certain varieties as were in popular demand. B.C. fruit shipped to the United Kingdom in quantities under 500,000 lbs. annually was under a considerable handicap as regards the impressing of the consuming public, as compared with the annual 3,000,000 boxes exported to there from the United States. It was freely stated in Old Country circles that B. C. apples could not compete on a particular market. However, in spite of this handicap, the B. C. brands were making exin the middle of the way, though the fact remained that a market for them was not yet established. To secure a permanent and increasing market some special arrangements were essential. They were: colour, which was the most important of all, the consumer buying almost entirely by eye; uniformity of size, it being very noticeable that nearly all the shipping houses varied in size; and, lastly, the fact that the goods packed they put up, the various classes of goods.

tion of C Grade from exports to pe, except as regards Cox Orange,

regarding the export of small-sized
s, Mr. Smith said that, while Un-States fruit men could afford to these to the United Kingdom,

Beer Analyzed By Experts

ALL the Beers purchased by the Liquor Control Board of B. C. from the Vancouver Breweries Limited, Rainier Brewing Co. of Canada Limited, Westminster Brewing Co. Limited, Victoria Phoenix Brewing Co. Limited and the Silver Spring Brewery Limited, who are all members of the Amalgamated Breweries of B. C., for sale at Government Liquor Stores and the Licensed Beer Parlors, have been and will be analyzed from time to time by different expert firms of the continent for the protection of the public.

THE substance of these various analyses instigated by order of the Liquor Control Board shows that the Beers are perfect, the taste agreeable and malty. The foam is creamy and stands up well. The alcohol by weight is about 4.25 per cent. and the extract 5.49 per cent. with an original gravity of about 13.20. These analyses indicate further that the Beers are of good quality, wholesome and free from any foreign substance.

TO make a good Beer with such health-giving qualities it requires a skilled brewmaster and an up-to-date hygienic plant, such as maintained by the above mentioned Breweries. These plants are open for inspection and visits of the public are gladly solicited. Only the best materials obtainable are used in the manufacture of the Beers.

THE Brewing capacity of the above Breweries, members of the Amalgamated Breweries of B. C., is about eight times as large as the present output, which gives best assurance to the public of receiving only fully matured and properly aged Beers for many years to come.

The reputation established during the past by Canadian-bred and Canadian-owned cows was upheld recently when, at the end of a 305-day test held under the rules of the Canadian Record of Performance, the Quebec-owned Ayshire cow, Nellie Osborne of Elusade 10th, broke the world's record for milk and butter-fat production and also set a new record for the breed in Canada. During the period of observations, the cow produced 21,251 pounds of milk and 909 pounds of butter-fat.

A very large number of phosphate claims have recently been located in South-East Kootenay.

The total number of forest fires in Southern B.C. this year has already broken all records.

BOY SCOUT COLUMN

1st Kelowna Troop
Troop First! Self Last!

Edited by "Pioneer."

Tuesday, July 20th, 1926.
Orders by command for week ending July 29th, 1926.

Orderly Patrol up to the 28th inst., Eagles; next for duty, as ordered at Camp.

Rallies: The Troop will rally at the Scout Hall on Friday, the 23rd inst., at 7.30 p.m., when final arrangements for camp will be made. Every Scout in the Troop, however, is required to attend this Rally, whether he is going to Camp or not, and it is very important, if for any reason it is impossible for a Patrol Leader to be present, that his Second shall be there.

The Cubs broke camp on Monday, the 19th inst., and they are certainly to be congratulated upon the way they built the camp, particularly the new pier, which is a very substantial affair and should resist the onslaught of the high waves from the south for a very long period.

All those attending camp will rally at the Scout Hall on Wednesday, the 28th inst., at 9.30 a.m., with full equipment and a lunch for the first meal. On account of the camp being already built, the first day's duties will be very different from what we have always experienced so far, and will enable us to get down to the regular routine of camp the first day.

All those who propose taking the hike to Terrace Mountain must have their parents' permission.

The two visitors' days in camp will be Sunday, the 1st of August, from 10 to noon, and Thursday, the 5th of August, from 2 to 5 p.m. The Camp Service will be held on the first date at 11 a.m., and the usual Camp Sports on the latter date at 2 p.m.

We have been fortunate in being able to secure the services of Sam Lescourenat for camp cook.

We are much obliged to Messrs. Jones & Tempest for the rental of a camp stove at a nominal rental, and to the Girl Guides for the loan of their trestles and tables, and also to the Reverend Cubmaster Davis and the Cubs for their equipment.

At the Garden Party in aid of the Band, held at Mr. Morrison's recently, one of the Scouts taking part in one of the relay races presumably lost a small pocket book containing some silver and some Ramsay's chocolate nut-bar coupons. The owner may have the same upon application to the Scoutmaster.

We welcome to the district Major J. A. Ewing, K.C., of Montreal, Provincial Commissioner for the Province of Quebec, who is at Kelowna for a short visit. We hope he will be able to attend the Rally on Friday evening next to meet our Troop and see our Hall.

ALBERTA LEADS IN COAL PRODUCTION

During 1925 Canada produced some 13,968 tons of coal, valued at $49,261,951, according to a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Alberta held the premier position with an output of 5,869,031 tons, which was 679,302 tons above 1924 production. British Columbia showed a slight advance of 2,842,252 tons in 1925.

There were 25,032 people, including 1,542 salaried employees, engaged in or about the mines during 1925, to whom $33,200,309 was paid in salaries and wages.

AIR LINER THAT FLIES 110 MILES AN HOUR

The largest aeroplane in the British Commercial Air Service was launched at Coventry Aerodrome by its maker, Sir W. G. Armstrong Whitworth Aircraft Ltd. Apart from its huge size, which made its crew of 30 men look like pigmies, the new air liner is a notable example of the "Safety First" principle in science. Until quite recently, most commercial aircraft have had to depend on one engine. If the engine failed, a forced landing was the result. The new "Argosy," which is the name of the machine, eliminated all possibility of forced landing by installing triple-engine power. The plane will carry 20 passengers and luggage.

1ST RUTLAND TROOP

"Do A Good Turn Daily"

Rutland, B.C., July 19th, 1926
Orders for the week of July 25th to August 1st:

The Troop will parade on the School field on Friday, at 7.45 p.m. sharp. Full uniform to be worn.

Duty Patrol: Kangaroos.

Attendance at last Friday's meeting was small, due to reaction after the excitement of camp, no doubt. A decision will be made at a forthcoming Court of Honour as to the advisability of continuing the meetings throughout August. In any case there will be cessation of Scout activity, through the busy season during the latter part of August and the month of September. The summer months, however, provide occasion for a good deal of Scouting that cannot be practiced successfully in winter.

Scouts W. Miller (Seals) and W. Marr (Kangaroos) passed their Kim's Game test for the Second Class badge, at last week's meeting.

A Court of Honour will be held shortly to decide certain transfers and appointments. The date will be announced at this week's meeting.

Ten members of the 1st Rutland Wolf Cub Pack are attending the combined Cub Camp being held at Cedar Creek.

A. W. GRAY, Scoutmaster.

WOLF CUB NOTES

There will not be any Cub parades until September.

The Wolf Cubs of Kelowna and District wish to express their grateful thanks to all those who helped to make their camp last week so successful by kindly lending their trucks or cars for transportation; the Girl Guides Association for loan of tables; Messrs. Jones & Tempest for loan of range; Messrs. Casorso Bros., Ltd., Serim and Waldron for hams; the parents of the boys and other kind friends for pies, cakes, vegetables and fruit; Messrs. J. Ball and H. Chapin for ice cream treats which were much appreciated; the 1st Kelowna Troop and others for the use of their tents; Mr. Sam Les; courtenat, the cook, for his excellent meals and kindness at all times to those concerned; Dr. Knox kindly lent a water polo ball and Mr. B. Crichton cricket nets, which proved great attractions; Mr. D'Arcy Hinkson gave timber for pier building—the Cub efforts in this line may be seen by visitors to Cedar Creek, and should prove of great advantage for boat mooring, etc. May I suggest to those who frequent this ideal spot from time to time, that they preserve the green trees, so much needed for shade, and do not destroy tent poles "cached" by Scouts and Cubs for future use. Above all, that bottles be not thrown into the lake—many feet were cut this Camp through this mischievous practice.

Cricket

A match between the Kelowna and Okanagan Mission Cubs, played at Kelowna, resulted in a win for Kelowna by one run.

Both sides seemed to lack confidence and wickets fell quickly on both sides. T. Dodd (Okanagan Mission) and R. Lupton (Kelowna) being the only batsmen to score. Benny Roberts and Hill bowled well for Kelowna, the former taking 5 wickets and the latter, 4. D. Reed and T. Stubbs shared the honours for Okanagan Mission. Each side played for half an hour for second innings till noon.

Lupton, 32, and D. Verity, 12, for Kelowna, who ran up 44 for one wicket. Okanagan Mission then put up 43 for seven wickets.

YODELLING IS NO SIMPLE BUSINESS

Swiss Herdsmen Use Large Variety
Of Calls For Different Purposes

Swiss yodelling was invented to call cows, and sometimes goats, but never to call sheep; and is being used today also by herdsmen to call their girls! As a consequence, according to Ernest Custer, yodeller from the Canton of Appenzell, Switzerland, Swiss Alpine cows have more or less of a musical education. Cows learn their herdsman's yodel, and respond only to it. A cow yodel may run: "Come on cows, black and tan. Get in line, it's milkin' time," etc. Cows are declared to be particularly susceptible to this kind of music. And herdsmen have observed that jealousy exists between different cows over wearing the silver-toned herd bell, or "treichla," even though it does sometimes weigh 20 pounds, which is given to the best producer in the herd.

But yodelling for cows and yodelling for girls is different. Always the "girl yodel" is preceded by a whistled tune of a few bars. Following it is the yodel for a particular girl. The girl replies by yodelling a tone higher. This is kept up until the herdsman and his girl get together. Then, for the finale, both yodel in unison.

Custer explains just why yodelling and singing have nothing in common. No person can be both a singer and a yodeller. Yodelling is difficult to master, and to be a good yodeller one must begin early in life. Consequently all the members of a Swiss herdsman's family yodel about almost everything from morning to night. Something about getting the chickens in would be yodelled to a little girl by her father. Her reply might be: "Daddy dear, daddy dear, the hens are all in; but here comes the rooster!" (Aside to the rooster.) "But where have you been?" The rooster's reply with an imitation "caw" would then be given: "Never mind, little girl, where I have been. Where would the chickens be if I wasn't in?"

As a rule, all yodels begin with a "yod-lee-oh-yah." Over three hundred different yodels have been mastered by Custer.

When he is lonesome, mountain echoes are made use of by the yodelling herdsman. By waiting for the echo, sometimes two echoes, the yodeller is able to yodel a duet or a trio with himself. For this reason acoustic properties of mountains and valleys are known to herdsmen, as well as the weather and feed conditions. Yodelling cows, calling them in, when storms threaten with land slides and floods, saves the Swiss herdsmen many valuable cattle each year, says Custer.

COMPARING CROPS BY DRY-MATTER CONTENT

(Experimental Farms Note)
The value of a forage crop depends not only on the total crop yield per acre, but also largely on the quantity of dry matter it contains. Final analysis often shows that the crop yielding the heaviest tonnage of total crop does not always record the highest dry-matter content. Comparisons of forage crops made by the Dominion Experimental Farms take into account the dry-matter content of each crop. At the time of harvesting, a sample of from twenty-five pounds to fifty pounds of green fodder is passed through a cutter, the cut material thoroughly mixed, and of this mixed material duplicate two-pound samples of clover or clover and duplicate five-pound samples of roots, corn, sunflowers, etc., are taken and carefully weighed. These weightings give the figures for the green weight. The samples are left to become air-dried in trays and are then transferred to a drying-oven where all moisture is driven out. The weights then recorded represent the actual dry-matter content of the samples, and accordingly for the total crop.

SERVING THE DOMINION, THE PROVINCE AND THE LOCAL COMMUNITY

FROM the high tides of the Bay of Fundy on the east to the rocky shores of British Columbia on the west, there is scarcely a community of importance in the whole Dominion which is not served by the Bank of Montreal.

In every section of the Dominion the bank has a complete organization giving careful attention and prompt service to the banking requirements of the public, while each branch serves promptly and adequately the people of its own community.

Orchard Run

A PERMANENT

BAND LEADER

Faced with an increase of four mills
in the total tax rate, the City Council this year could not see their way to continue the annual grant to the Orchard City Band on the same basis as last year, and it was reduced to $600.This amount is insufficient to cover the band leader's salary for the period of his employment, which is only seasonal, and the Band has to look to other sources of revenue to make up the difference, but engagements are few and it is difficult to raise enough money to cover its requirements.Surveying the history of bygone years, Kelowna has had a number of band leaders of varying degrees of merit, few of whom have stayed here
for any length of time, owing to the same recurring financial difficulty, and it is no wonder, under the circumstances, that it has been hard to secure continuity of band organization and steady improvement in quality of performance. Since the reorganization of what is now the Orchard City Band, marked progress has been made under the leadership of Bandmaster Slater,but the development of the Band would have been expedited had it been possible to retain his services during the winter, when it is much easier for the bandmen to attend practices than during the busy summer and autumn months. Kelowna now has an exceptionally skilful and able band leader and instructor, in fact, without dispar-agement to his predecessors, probably the best yet, and a strong effort should be made to secure his services permanently all the year round by payment of adequate remuneration, otherwise there is danger of losing him,
should he secure an all-the-year position
elsewhere.When taxation is high it is difficult to coax ratepayers into spending money
for what a number of them may regard as non-essential. It may be true that good band music does not put food in the mouths of the people or clothes
upon their backs, but for all that it has a distinct place in the life of the community. It cultivates the love of good music, and where a music-loving people abides, most of the virtues flourish and few of the vices. The world has not changed materially since the days of Saul, when the strains of music dispelled the evil thoughts that possessed
him, and people who attend and enjoy the band concerts in the Park are not likely to be plotting ill against their fellow creatures.When it is considered that an adequate grant to the Band of $1,200 a year would be equivalent to about half a mill of taxation, it would seem that the money should not be grudged by the taxpayers, in view of the results it would bring for the good of community life, and if the general wish of the people in this regard is indicated by

THE QUEEN OF HOLLAND

Who, during a stroll in the mountains
at Stratenberg, Switzerland, had the trying experience of finding the dead body of a man who had fallen from a cliff. One of her suite sent for the police while the queen covered the man's face with her handkerchief.presentation of a largely signed petition to the Council, there is little doubt but that liberal provision will be made in next year's budget, even if it entails additional taxation. The matter should be taken up immediately upon the 1927 Council assuming office, so that the grant may commence at the outset of the year.To tide over the four months or so of this year not covered by a civic grant, some early action will be required. The Council might be asked to give a small supplementary grant, even if not covered by the estimates, and two or three indoor band concerts, followed by a dance, during the winter months, should bring substantial receipts. If the gap between income and expenditure cannot be bridged any other way,
bled though he is so frequently, the average business man would respond with reasonable cheerfulness to a "touch" per the familiar method of a subscription list, if he was assured that his contribution would help to secure a permanent leader for the Orchard City Band.

MARKETING B.C.

FRUIT IN BRITAIN

ing an excellent home market in that country, but Canada needed an export market for thirty per cent of her apple crop. Therefore, the Old Country market should be considered as a barometer by Canadian fruit growers, and in order to secure and keep that market nothing but first-class fruit should reach it from this country.Touching on the subject of the wonderful advertising of Canadian apples
at the Imperial Fruit Show, the speaker enlarged upon the necessity of pushing special varieties, such as McIntosh Red, in preference to others for which it was doubtful if ever a steady market could be obtained in the Old Land.Last year's show had been a veritable triumph for Canada, the Dominion securing both the dessert and cooking
apple championships and carrying off nine out of ten possible prizes. Of these nine prizes, B. C. secured five together with the dessert championship
cup. However, these prizes had all been won through the efforts of organizations and the field open to individual growers had not been taken advantage of. The prizes in the Over-seas section were worth competing for and any grower could enter in the subsection from which organizations were excluded. Also exhibits could be sent to all international exhibitions and Mc-Intosh Red, not yet firmly established on the export market, should be put forward as a candidate for all possible honours.After dealing with the political and other reasons why the Imperial Economic Committee had been established in Great Britain, Mr. Smith gave the recommendations made by that important body as regards improving inter-Empire trade, these being: (1) the extension of $3,000,000 annually on a national advertising campaign with a view to inducing consumers to purchase British goods in preference to the produce of foreign countries; (2)the passing of an Imperial Merchandise Act making it compulsory for retailers
to ticket fruit and other food products exposed for sale as either "Empire" or"Foreign"; (3) certain expenditures to be made in connection with commercial problems, such as the transportation of food stuffs, cold storage, etc. These recommendations, he stated, had all been adopted by the present British Government, and the advertising campaign would commence this year.After speaking on the splendid results of the Wembley Exhibition and observing that Mr. F. R. E. DeHart had done fine work for the fruit growers of B. C., the speaker commented on the propaganda used to create patriotic sentiment. He thought that growers here should do their part in helping the British Government by advertising their fruit as "British" fruit
and advised the wording of "Empire Apples—Canadian" being placed on each package sent to the United Kingdom. If we did our part here, there was every likelihood of the people in the Old Land doing theirs and thus the object of the following slogan would be realized:

"For your health's sake

"Eat more apples.

"For the Empire's sake

"Choose Empire fruit."

Explaining the report made by the Imperial Economic Committee in further detail, Mr. Smith stated that the following figures it contained should be enlightening:
In 1924 the value of fruit consumed
in the United Kingdom was $340,000,- 000, and of this no less than $190,000,- 000 worth came from foreign countries. On the other hand, the per capita consumption of British goods was that year: in Australia, £10; in Canada,
£3; in New Zealand, £17, as compared with nine shillings and two pence in the United States and eleven shillings in Spain. Yet all fruit, except perhaps grapes and winter oranges, could be produced within the Empire itself.After making the recommendation that each fruit-producing Dominion
should have its own representative stationed in London, and that all fruit
sent to the Old Country should be consigned to him for distribution, Mr.
Smith spoke of the work of the Imperial Economic Commission in making a complete analysis of the cost of selling fruit once it had reached the United Kingdom, which attacks the principle of the "consolidated charge" made on each package by brokers, in addition to the commission or selling charge.
The Commission reported on this matter as follows: "Whatever defence may be set up for the total amount demanded from the grower for the sale of his fruit, and however legitimate a certain amount of averaging the out-of-pocket
expenses may be, the present consolidated charge is open to fundamental objections." In this opinion Mr. Smith said he fully concurred, though the excuse made by commission agents for the charge was that dock and other expenses varied at various ports and that the consolidated charge represented skilled and valuable service rendered the growers.Another matter touched on by the speaker was the great spread between the primary wholesale value of fruit and the cost to the consumer, investigation
having proved that this often amounts to one hundred per cent. Still another matter of importance was the high cost of inland freight in Great Britain,
which was a serious thing and affected grower and consumer alike.He wound up his address by referring to the following points as being necessary for the future welfare of the Canadian export trade in apples: (1)
the maintenance of the highest possible
grades so as to establish a permanent market; (2) the reduction of the quantity of small sizes exported; (3) the holding back from shipment of all C grade apples; (4) the taking steps to secure uniformity of pack by all packing houses; (5) the realization that the United Kingdom is a basic market for the Canadian fruit grower; (6) the making of a bid by capturing, if possible, both the dessert and cooking apples championships of the British Empire; (7) recognition of the importance of supporting the advertising campaign of the British Government by helping the Old Country consumer to identify British goods; (8) giving consideration to the trying out of a twenty pound package.After Mr. Forsyth Smith had answered a few questions put to him, one of which caused him to remark that only fifteen varieties of apples, at most,
and certainly not Grimes Golden,
should be exported to the United Kingdom, a hearty vote of thanks was given him for his address.

ROD LA ROCQUE HAS FINE

ROLE IN "BRAVEHEART"

Romantic Love Story Of A Noble Red

Man And A White Girl

Rod La Rocque, who made an outstanding success in "The Ten Commandments," has a powerful title role in "Braveheart," which comes to the Empress Theatre on Friday and Saturday, July 23rd and 24th, and he puts the opportunity to good advantage.Son of an Indian chief, Braveheart falls in love with Dorothy Nelson (Lilian Rich), daughter of a fisherman magnate, Herbert Nelson (Robert Edeson), who denies the Indians certain fishing rights guaranteed them by an old treaty.
Trouble ensues and when this is subdued Braveheart is sent to a white man's college to learn the white man's business methods. Here he meets Dorothy and their love romance blossoms.
Dorothy's brother Frank (Arthur Housman) seeks to betray the college team and Braveheart shields him to save Dorothy from shame. Braveheart is expelled and Dorothy, who is in ignorance of the truth, upbraids him, and they separate.When the news of Braveheart's disgrace reaches the Indians, his secret
enemy, Ki-Yote (Frank Hagney), makes the most of it. A council of the tribe is called and feeling against Braveheart runs high. Ki-Yote harangues the Indians and incites them to rebellion against the whites because of the injustice done them over the fishing rights. Braveheart means to take moral constitutional measures, appeals to the courts for a ruling and wins a verdict in favour of the hereditary privileges of his tribe. When he returns home, he finds that soldiers have been summoned to quell the rioting Indians led by Ki-Yote, and he determines to save his people from massacre.Dorothy having learned of Braveheart's innocence, reveals the truth to her father. They are seized as hostages

Two jars of formalin for preserving fish have been ordered to Mr. A. K. Stuart by the director of the Pacific Biological Station, Nanaimo. Those who wish to contribute specimens of trout caught by them for study by the Biological Board of Canada can obtain a supply from him. The Board is particularly anxious to secure some specimens of what are termed "silver trout" in many sections of the Interior.

Corporal P. Pentecost of the Provincial Police, who for the past four years was stationed here, left on Monday morning by car for Vernon on his selected duty, having effected an exchange with Corporal P. Corrigan, who is now in charge of the Provincial Police office in this city. Mrs. Pentecost and children joined Corporal Pentecost at Vernon and travelled on with him by C.P.R. train to his new station.

An old-time resident of Kelowna, Mr. C. H. James, spent a day or two in town this week renewing old acquaintances, who were glad to learn that he is doing well in his present place of residence, Los Angeles, where he has a responsible position in charge of a power station. He is visiting his brother, Capt. A. B. James, of Nahant, and purposes returning to Los Angeles about the end of the week, driving all the way. The northward journey was made with only minor car troubles and was very enjoyable. According to his specifications, the distance between Los Angeles and Kelowna is 1,720 miles.

Mr. Peter Hewetson, of the staff of the Bank of Commerce, received word yesterday that he had passed with honours in the examination of the Canadian Bankers' Association, held last June.

MARRIAGE

Caldow—Jamieson

The United Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Monday afternoon, when Rev. Dr. C. Jackson united in marriage Mr. Robert Maltman Caldow, son of the late Mr. Joseph Caldow and Mrs. Caldow, of Dundrennan, Kirkcudbrightshire, Scotland, and Miss Mary Jamieson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jamieson, of Bathgate, Linlithgowshire, Scotland.

The bride, who was given away by Dr. G. L. Campbell, was beautifully gowned in white flat crepe, embroidered in seed pearls, and had a veil of lovely lace becomingly held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of blush roses and baby's breath and wore the groom's gift, a very handsome bracelet.

The bridesmaid, Miss Molly Cowan, looked charming in an ecru lace gown over rose satin and picture hat of delicate green. Her bouquet was of sweet peas and she also wore the groom's gift, a very pretty bar pin.

The groom was supported by Mr. David Weighton, and Mr. William Spark acted as usher. The gift to the groomsmen was an initialled watch fob. During the service Mr. Geo. S. McKenzie rendered a very beautiful solo, "I Love You Truly." A reception was held subsequently at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Campbell, where the guests viewed the many lovely and useful gifts received by the popular young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldow left by car the same afternoon on a honeymoon trip to the Coast, the bride travelling in a smart dress of tangerine crepe with hat to match. On their return they will reside at Rutland.

DOMINION FISHERIES REGULATIONS AMENDED

Anglers throughout this section of the Interior who were interested in the struggle put up by the Allied Fish and Game Protective Association for an alteration in the fishing regulations to obtain a close season for trout during the spawning season, which ended in the wishes of that organization being granted, will be glad to hear that by an Order-in-Council passed at the Ottawa Governor-General in Council, on the recommendation of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has made a further amendment to the fishing regulations, prohibiting any angler killing more than twenty-five trout of any species per day or more than twenty bass, also making the close season for trout in streams from November 15th to May 23rd, and from March 1st to April 30th in lakes, all dates inclusive.

FROM BORDER OF MEXICO TO VANCOUVER

New Booklet Describes Country Traversed By Pacific Highway

A concrete evidence of the practicality of the movement to give joint publicity to the attractions of the Ottawa Pacific Coast, including California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, is given in a 96-page beautifully illustrated booklet issued under the brief caption of "Pacific Highway" by the Pacific Highway Association of California. This is the most attractive bit of tourist literature ever issued for the Pacific Coast as a whole and contains several features unique in that sort of publicity. It is devoted to the attractions along the route of the Highway, from San Diego to Vancouver and Victoria, but, as that is the great artery of north and south moving, the very backbone of travel by automobile up and down the Pacific Coast, it necessarily comprehends most of the remarkable features of this region.

The Pacific Highway is the world's longest paved motor route. It has a long its great length every variety of scenery the Pacific Coast offers, among them a number of natural wonders unique in all the world. For over 1,700 miles it is a continuous panorama of beauty and surprise, witnessed in the greatest of comfort of balmy climate and good road, with all the accessories of safe and delightful touring, such as fine hotels, well equipped auto camps, garages and service stations. It passes through the ten great cities of San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento, Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria.

There are hundreds of miles of ocean shore drive, with innumerable bathing beaches, beautiful mountain passes and valleys, vast areas of gardens and orchards, groves of California's giant redwood trees, the only active volcano in America, a dozen high peaks of perpetual snow, marvellous Crater Lake, the wonderful Oregon caves, the famous scenery and waterfalls of the Columbia River, the entrancing views of Puget Sound, the charm of Burrard Inlet, the Gulf of Georgia and Vancouver Island, with lakes and streams innumerable, all abounding in trout.

All this is revealed by over a hundred fine half-tone pictures and interesting descriptive text, with road maps of the entire route. A feature that will be appreciated by all tourists is a glossary of names from end to end of the route, telling how to pronounce them and what they mean. Another feature the tourist will appreciate is the luncheon dates of the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Exchange Clubs and of Chamber of Commerce forums. The cover is a beautiful design in four colours suggestive of the scenery of the Highway.

This help to tourists and invaluable guide is being distributed free of charge at all Chambers of Commerce, Automobile Club offices and Information Bureaux, and all intending to take a motor trip along the Pacific Highway should send for a copy in advance.

In the low-price field
where is the car
that equals it?

Before buying a car—open or closed—in the low-
priced field, ask yourself these questions:

1. Is it as comfortable and smart in appearance as the New Chevrolet?
2. Does it boast of such advanced features as dry disc clutch, genuine Duco finish, vacuum gas-line system with tank in rear?
3. Has it an overhead-valve engine?
4. Has it a genuine Fisher Body?
5. Can it duplicate Chevrolet's speed, hill-climbing ability and all-round dependability?

Because no other car at or near Chevrolet price can answer all these questions and because Chevrolet delivers a greater measure of quality and value for your dollars than any other low-priced car—this is the car for you.

THE PRAIRIE FRUIT MARKET BULLETIN

Current Prices And Market Conditions
(From the weekly Bulletin, issued by J. A. Grant, Fruit Markets Commissioner, Calgary.)

Calgary, July 17, 1926.

The Week In Calgary

The week in Calgary had as its outstanding feature a sweltering heat wave accompanied with an occasional dust storm and a few drops of rain. It has also brought a large variety of seasonal fruits and vegetables from B.C. and this has lessened the demand for berries and cherries.

Water melons and cantaloupes have been in strong demand. B.C. apples, pears, peaches, apricots, plums, yakkimes, cherries and field tomatoes are amongst the new arrivals. Strawberries are about over. Gooseberries are scarce for the first time since their shipping started. Raspberry supplies are on the decline.

B.C. mixed vegetables are becoming very popular, especially at country points. These come in stock cars. In one of these cars, from Penticton, was found 27 crates of celery which arrived in a heated condition showing soft slimy rot in tops in centre of crate. We have noticed several other celery shipments in mixed cars, showing this trouble slightly. Celery should not be held too long before rolling and more care in packing would prevent this costly shrinkage.

Small supplies of field tomatoes are arriving from Kelowna. A car of new potatoes arrived here from Strathmore, Alberta. This is the first local car of potatoes this season.

A few L.C.L. shipments of Oliver cantaloupes will roll about July 25th. The first week in August should see the car lot movement in full swing. About 25 per cent increase in shipments expected over last year.

Medicine Hat

MEDICINE HAT, July 15.—The weather here has been extremely hot the last two weeks and unless rain comes very quickly the crop prospects will suffer. There are now beginning to show the effects of the continued dry spell.

This market has been overloaded with cherries of all kinds during the past two weeks, and it has been impossible to realize a fair price for same, as the jobber did not have a chance to clean up before he was again overloaded.

B.C. apricots are arriving in very fine condition.

Edmonton

EDMONTON, July 15.—This is exhibition week and crowds of visitors are in attendance, which has had the effect of boosting the fruit trade considerably.

A much needed rain set in at noon today, Thursday. Generally speaking, the crops are looking good.

B.C. apricots arriving this week are not as good as first receipts. L.C.L. shipments of B.C. blackberries, loganberries, currants and cherries arriving daily and in fairly good demand.

Some B.C. growers persist in shipping their produce direct to retailers, which results to the disadvantage of all concerned. To stabilize prices growers must ship their produce through reliable brokers to the jobbing trade.

The B.C. celery coming on the market is deserving of special mention. The celery arriving is in fine, crisp condition and the packages are the right size for the retailer to handle without breaking the package.

Missouri and Tennessee Tomatoes, Field, 4 bskt. crate, $2.00 to	2.25
Wash. Onions, New, cwt. sack, sample, $6.00 to	6.50

SWIFT CURRENT, July 14.—Strawberries and raspberries are practically finished at this date. We have been receiving mostly local shipments and they have been arriving in good condition. Cherries are moving freely.

The demand for new potatoes is slowing up as there are lots of local ones.

The hot weather during the past week has also helped the fruit business, which we have found fairly satisfactory.

We are also beginning to receive small shipments of B.C. apricots which are selling for $2.00 for four basket crates.

Saskatoon

SASKATOON, July 14.—This market has been kept well supplied with rasps, the past week both night cars and day cars arriving and the trade has been satisfied so far as being able to fill all the orders they had booked and are now concentrating in B.C. apricots, cherries, etc.

Washington mixed cars of peaches, plums and apples are arriving daily. Apricots are coming from B.C. and they have several mixed cars from B.C. arrive recently containing apricots and mixed vegetables.

Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, July 14.—Business for the past week has been good on this market with the supply ample with the exception of raspberries, which have been somewhat short. Two cars arrived on July 10th and one on July 12th soft and showing considerable mould, but as the market was short, they cleaned up fairly well and a car arrived this morning from Haney which was in good condition and cleaned up quickly.

The following are the wholesale prices, also the car receipts, for the past week:

Ontario:
Gooseberries, 6 qt. bskt.	$ 1.50
Gooseberries, 11 qt. bskt.	1.50

Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 14.—The weather during the past week has been warm and dry and trading in fruit and produce has been, on the whole, very good.

Local apples are now coming in freely with small sizes predominating. The smaller stuff moves but slowly, while the larger sizes are quickly sold. There are also light supplies of California Gravensteins which move out quickly and a few Duchess and Yellow Transparents from Wenatchee.

With the exception of a very small shipment of "Admiral Peary" peaches from Yakima, this fruit is as yet entirely supplied from California points. Triumph have given place largely to St. Johns and Early Crawfords.

A few peach plums have arrived from Chilliwack and wholesale at 5c per lb. However, the bulk of this movement is as yet from California. An unusual feature this year is the arrival of bulk Wickson plums in 25 lb. lugs from California. It is stated there is a heavy crop of this variety to the South and this package is being used to facilitate its disposal.

Okanagan apricots are now on the market in quantity, competing with bulk supplies from Washington. The B.C. product is in the 4 basket crate and the box package.

By many in the trade the 4 basket crate is not favoured. They consider it as being too expensive a package for apricots.

After passing through a poor two or three days, the tomato deal has livened up under light supplies. During the week loose pack went as low as $2.00 to the jobbers.

DO NOT ALLOW

your property to be sacrificed for less than it is worth. It may be if you don't leave a Will. When making your Will why not appoint the Okanagan Loan & Investment Trust Company as your Executor or Co-executor? The Company has the advantage of being the only Trust Company in the Interior of British Columbia and has a thorough knowledge of local values, being in a position to handle your affairs at a minimum of cost. When you appoint us as your Executor you have the advantage of expert knowledge of each department of the Company. If you know of any individual who is an expert accountant, farmer, has a thorough knowledge of financial investments and is not liable to die, you would do well to appoint him to handle your estate. In our opinion the Okanagan Loan & Investment Trust Company is the only organization in the Interior that has these necessary qualifications.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY, JUL

TWENTY YEARS AGO

(From the files of "The Kelowna Courier")

Thursday, July 19, 1906

"The new sawmill will soon be in operation, most of the machinery having arrived. A fine new locomotive boiler arrived last week for the 'Kelowna' which will largely increase her speed and towing power."

"Some yahoo with the artistic soul of a circus advance agent has been decorating the trees in the Park with hideous advertising signs, which spoil much of its natural beauty. The time cannot come too soon for municipal control of the Park, so that an end can be put to this sort of thing, and we hope the Council will be able to come to an arrangement with the Lequime estate before it is converted into a wilderness of glaring advertisements and town rubbish."

"Eighteen thoroughbred Hereford bulls, averaging two years old, went south on the 'Aberdeen' on Monday for the South Okanagan Land Co. They are fine animals and should prove a valuable addition to the Company's herd. After unloading at Penticton, considerable difficulty was experienced in rounding them up, as they got scattered in the swamps in the darkness."

"Up to the time of going to press, no meeting has been held this week of the City Council. The City Fathers cannot be blamed very much for shirking their duties once in a while with the temperature of their meeting room like a Turkish bath, but we would humbly point out that their agonies would be considerably shortened if they adhered to parliamentary procedure, spoke to the subject and did not let the discussion wander to every point that ever has been or will be discussed."

"There was trouble in town last week with drunken Indians, one of whom was locked up for twenty-four hours. In the absence of a J.P., Mayor Raymer being out of town, City Constable Brent had to release the prisoner, who would have been a valuable witness against the white men who gave him liquor and against whom more serious charges possibly would have been laid. We have already drawn attention in these columns to the necessity of having a police magistrate for the city, with small debts court jurisdiction, but the Council, for some reason, will take no action. The city constable has very little encouragement to do his duty if there is no magistrate in town to hear cases, and it cannot be said that justice is being efficiently administered when there is only one resident J.P. To provide for contingencies, the provincial government should be asked to appoint an additional justice, a police magistrate, and to establish a small debts court. There are no obstacles in the way other than the curious slackness of the Council in taking the initiative."

Peaches of the Sneed variety were ripe at Peachland on July 12th.

The Twelfth of July was celebrated at Peachland by members of the Orange order throughout the Okanagan. Forty Orangemen from Kelowna, accompanied by the Kelowna Citizens' Band, participated in the proceedings. The Summerland Band was also present, and the total attendance from points outside of Peachland aggregated about three hundred and fifty.

An advertisement by Stirling & Pitcairn, pioneer fruit packers and shippers, offers three cents per pound for peach plums, four cents for Alexander peaches, one and three-quarter cents for Yellow Transparent, Red Astrachan and other early summer apples.

HOW TO INTRODUCE QUEENS

(Experimental Farms Note)

Before introducing a new queen to a colony of bees it is of the utmost importance that the colony contains no queen or queen-cells of its own, otherwise the new queen will be killed. If the colony to be requeened already has a queen of its own and has made no preparations for swarming, remove the old queen and leave the colony queenless for about twelve hours and then introduce the new queen. If, however, the colony has made preparations for swarming, remove the queen, destroy all queen-cells and leave queenless for ten days. On the tenth day again destroy all queen-cells and introduce the new queen. Should the colony be without a queen several days before the new queen is introduced, examine the colony carefully for queen-cells or virgin queens and destroy them before giving the new one. Bees will accept a new queen more readily when nectar is coming in than when there is a dearth, therefore it is better to introduce them during the flow. Feeding the colony with a thin syrup when there is no nectar will make introduction safer during such periods.

There are many methods of introducing queens, but most of them cannot be relied upon. The cage method, by which the queen and bees are kept apart in the hive for several hours, is the safest. Queens arriving by mail may be introduced from the mailing cage, following the directions which accompany such cages. Or, better still, transfer the queen, but not her attendants, to a Miller Candy Cage, select a few young bees from the colony to which she is to be introduced and put in the cage with her. Place the cage either between the top bars of the frames or in the entrance of the hive. The Canadian cage, which is a combination of the candy and push-in cage, has been found best at Ottawa. The queen is placed on the comb and the cage is put over her. The bees release the queen as from the other cages. When using either the Miller or Canadian cages, the honey should be removed and the queen is filled with candy and a narrow strip of stiff paper is placed over the mouth of the hole to prevent the bees from releasing the queen too quickly.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE WESTSIDE ROAD

Okanagan Centre, P.O.,
July 19th, 1926.
Editor, Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir,
On examining the road map displayed near the C.P.R. wharf, I was astonished to notice that the road on the West side of the Lake, from the ferry to Vernon, has been left out.

This road was cleared out by the motor grader from Kelowna this year. There is need for more rock work on the section between Bear Creek and Wilson's Landing, but the road is in constant use by motors.

The motoring public should be informed of the existence of this road. It is 51 miles from the ferry to Vernon and is one of the prettiest drives in the country. The Westside road loses the sun about 5 p.m. and offers many shady camp sites suitable for bathing and fishing, a refuge from the intense heat; also the traffic is light and it is possible to motor without trailing other cars and swallowing their dust.

Will you be kind enough to publish this in your next issue?

Your truly,
P. H. L. SEELEY.

THRILLS GALORE IN "SEA HORSES"

Romantic Melodrama Of The Red-Blooded Variety

Film patrons who prefer drama of the red-blooded variety, seasoned with plenty of thrills and flavoured with the sauce of romance, will find "Sea Horses," to be presented at the Empress Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, July 26th and 27th, a very appetizing green dish.

The story centres about a lovely English girl, played by Florence Vidor, who, with her little daughter, secures passage on a big ocean freighter which is headed for an out-of-the-way port on the East African coast. There she hopes to join her handsome, romantic husband, who deserted her a year after their marriage.

Her presence on board the ship has an electrifying result on the rough crew and the officers. The burly, brutal first mate and the youthful third officer eventually come to blows over her, and the captain, who keeps aloof, finds himself yielding eventually to her charms. The hard life of those who go down to the sea in freight ships is vividly recreated. "A wild storm at sea adds realism to the picture."

The girl finds that her handsome husband has degenerated into a drunkard, dirty beachcomber, and a riot of trouble ensues, the plot reaching its great climax at the height of a terrific tropical rainstorm. To save the woman he loves the first mate, played by George Bancroft, makes a heroic self-sacrifice after he has killed the degenerate husband in a fight, and in the end a happy romance is forecasted for the girl and the captain as the ship returns to England.

FASHION FANCIES

THIS SMART BATHING SUIT IS DEVELOPED IN SEA GREEN
TAFFETA

By Marie Belmont

What colour could be more appropriate for the jaunty bathing suit above than sea green?

This is the effective tone, unrelieved by a contrasting note, and the material is taffeta. The model is made with an elongated waistline and short full skirt, revealing green taffeta panties beneath with turned up cuffs. The high collar is finished by a bow at the back, with a matching larger bow at the back of the waistline.

The comparative stiffness of taffeta, which does away with the clinging quality, makes this material one of the most favoured for bathing suits that really are to be used for bathing.

AND OF COURSE HE BLAMED THE WOMAN

"At the close of a hot day," said the story-teller, "Adam was leaning on his humble cottage with his hoe on his shoulder after a hard day's work. Young Cain was running ahead boy-like, throwing rocks at the birds in his first efforts at assassination. Suddenly they came upon a beautiful garden. 'O father!' cried Cain. 'Look at the beautiful garden. I wish we lived there.'"

"We did live in that garden," said Adam regretfully, "until your mother ate us out of house and home."

PALATABLE METHOD OF EATING IRON

Honey Contains Abundant Supply Of Mineral Element Essential For Physical Welfare

There is a saying that some men are tough enough to "chew nails." It is not likely that iron in this form will ever become a popular article of diet, even though medical men tell us that a certain amount of iron in our food is necessary for bodily health. Fortunately, Nature knew about this long before man ever thought about it, and the iron that is essential for nourishment is found in sufficient quantities and in digestible form in certain natural foods. Honey is one of these, and it is difficult to imagine a more pleasant method of supplying the body with iron than by eating honey. Plants are able to feed upon the minerals in the soil, but man has a more delicate digestive apparatus and cannot resort to such first-hand methods for supplying his mineral requirements. The nectar which is distilled by the flowers of certain plants is comparatively rich in iron; this is gathered up by the bees and in the hive it is changed into honey. The darker honeys are, as a rule, richer in iron, although all honey can supply it in sufficient quantities for ordinary requirements.

"Honey is an inexhaustible iron mine," says the French writer, Alin Caillaud, in his book "The Treasures in a Drop of Honey." "Iron, so useful to plants, has filtered into the nectar, then into the honey, by the aid of the bee. It is here usually in combinations of phosphates, in a very soluble, easily digestible, easily assimilable form. It supplies the dessert required by our iron-hungry system, an excellent re-builder of physically and nervously run-down organs."

Honey Drop Cakes
Three-quarters of a cup of honey, 1/4 cup fat, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-8 teaspoon cloves, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 2 tablespoons water, 1 1/2 to 2 cups flour, 1 cup raisins, 1 egg. Heat honey and fat until fat melts. While mixture is warm add spices. When it is cold add egg, water, raisins and flour. Add enough flour to make a dough that will hold its shape. Drop spoonfuls on a greased pan. Bake in moderate oven.

RUTLAND

Mrs. Fred Meek returned home to Vancouver last week.

Miss McRobbie is staying with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Schofield.

Mrs. Heslop, accompanied by her grand-daughter, Miss Josephine Armstrong, left on Tuesday for Vancouver on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Hutchinson.

Miss Alma Mugford is spending her two weeks' holidays at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Mugford.

Mrs. Tom Davies is being visited by her sister, Miss Morgan, of Victoria.

There is still some water in the reservoir despite the recent scorching weather, and while we understand other districts have been without irrigation for the past week or two, the Rutland supply of water is sufficient to give the fruit growers here two more irrigations.

The Rutland Girl Guide Troop, which spent a pleasant week in camp at Okanagan Centre, returned on Monday. We hope to give a full report of their doings in next week's issue.

The local Pack of Wolf Cubs went camping too, being with the Kelowna Pack.

ALTERATION OF PLANT REGISTRATION RULES

At a meeting of the Plant Registration Committee of the Canadian Horticultural Council, held recently in Ottawa, a slight modification in the regulations governing registrations was made. Instead of issuing a certificate of record when a new plant was accepted for recording, no certificate will be issued in future until the plant is fully registered. It has been provided, however, that the Council, upon the recommendation of any recognized horticultural organization, will grant an award of merit certificate to any plant recorded at the Plant Registration Bureau.

Full details of the method of recording a new plant and of the operation of the Plant Registration Bureau in respect to registration can be obtained on application to the Secretary of the Canadian Horticultural Council at Ottawa.

According to a statement made by Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Finance, if this province adopts a "gross turn-over tax," there would be a tax upon the sale of commodities of approximately one-tenth of 1 per cent and another upon the sale of personal service amounting to one-half of 1 per cent. Every person doing business in B.C. would be obliged to take out a licence, and all business men would have to submit monthly returns showing their gross income for the month previous, and on these returns they would be taxed.

Kelowna Wins Return Fixture With Vernon For Spencer Cup

In one of the lowest scoring matches of the season, Kelowna vanquished Vernon this week and obtained revenge for a previous defeat which almost put them out of the running for the Spencer Cup. Lavington, who have been beaten twice by Kelowna, have one more match to play with Vernon, and if they lose this also, Vernon and Kelowna will be tied with three wins and one defeat each, which will necessitate a play-off. To provide for such an emergency, the locals decided to toss with Vernon for the selection of the grounds, and Kelowna losing, the final game, if necessary, will be played at Vernon on a Thursday afternoon.

This week's contest, with Kelowna batting first and being all out for less than 80, gave their supporters little hope that they would eventually be in a position at least to tie the visitors for the league leadership, but the bowlers were in a happy mood and if Vernon were successful with the ball, the Kelowna trundlers would be more so and dismissed the Vernonites for a very small score. As a result the match was over quite early in the afternoon, and details at the time of writing are not available, it being understood that the score was 72 to 29.

Armstrong And Vernon Tie For League Leadership

With Armstrong's defeat at Vernon last Thursday in a close game, 3-2, the Okanagan Valley League at present stands with these two teams tied for first place in the league standing, each having lost two games.

With the busy season approaching and the necessity for a play-off at the earliest possible date engaging the attention of league officials, Kelowna has decided to default their two remaining fixtures, one with Vernon here and the other at Armstrong.

This will leave the league standing as follows:—

	Played	Won	Lost
Vernon	8	6	2
Armstrong	8	6	2
Kelowna	8	0	8

According to a message received from Earl Johnson of Vernon, secretary of the Valley League, some hitch is being experienced in making the play-off arrangements, Vernon wishing a sudden death game with Armstrong for possession of the Rowcliffe cup, on Kelowna grounds, while Armstrong are holding out for home and home fixtures, total goals to count.

Lack of interest in attending practices, and the resultant lack of the contention to win games, is given by one local official as the reason for Kelowna's poor showing this year, but it must be admitted that in five encounters they only lost by the odd goal and did not have the best of luck. There has also been the advantage of breaking in new players who will show up in future years, several promising youngsters being given a chance this year.

Egg production in Canada has increased by over one hundred million dozen, or seventy per cent since 1920, according to a recent statement issued at Ottawa. In 1925 Canada produced 24.9 million dozen eggs and consumed 26.8 dozen per capita, as compared with 14.9 million dozen produced and 16.8 dozen per capita consumed in 1920.

SHORT HISTORY OF COLDSTREAM GUARDS BAND

Mr. Eley, the Bandmaster, was succeeded by Messrs. Weyranch, Denman and Willman. With the appointment of the latter the Coldstreamers began to lay the foundation for their inevitable fame. Thomas Willman was acknowledged the finest clarinet player of his age, and held the principal appointments at the Philharmonic and other orchestras. Under him the Coldstreamers became a veritable school for clarinet players. Out of it came Lazarus, the famous clarinet virtuoso. Even today this band is noted for its fine clarinet playing; indeed it would seem that the hand of Willman is still upon it. Eminent performers like Pollard, Maycock, Burton and Thomas, all came from the Coldstreamers. For a number of years many of the wind instrumentalists at Covent Garden Opera House had been members of this famous band.

Willman retired in 1825, and was succeeded by Mr. Charles Godfrey, who had joined the band as a musician, in 1815, from the Surrey Militia, and was founder of the family whose name is so intimately associated with military music and bands. He served as bandmaster until 1834, when his military engagements ceased, but so highly was he esteemed by his officers that he continued his position, although a civilian, until his death in 1863. During his regime the band attained so high a reputation as to be considered unsurpassed in the country.

All of Mr. Godfrey's sons were educated in the musical profession, three of them joining the Guards, each becoming subsequently bandmaster of his regiment. The second son, Fred Godfrey, entered the Coldstreamers in 1856, and was appointed bandmaster on his father's death in 1863. He remained bandmaster until 1880, when owing to ill-health he was compelled to resign. Fred Godfrey was an indefatigable and zealous worker. Quite a wealth of music was arranged by him, which even today is as popular as ever. Several musicians who afterwards rose to important positions in the musical world spent their early days in the band under Chas. and Fred Godfrey. Foremost among them are Mr. Horton, oboe professor at the R.A.M., and member of the late Queen's private band; Chisholm (bassoon), also of the late Queen's private band; Howard Reynolds, the famous cornet player; Phaysey, the "Father of the Euphonium," and many others.

The successor of Fred Godfrey was Mr. Cadwallader Thomas, an old Coldstream bandsman, who joined in 1853. He was a clarinet player of considerable ability, holding several important engagements in the metropolis, and for ten years was bandmaster of the Duke of York's School until called to take charge of the Coldstreamers, a position he held with great credit to himself and honour to his corps.

The next bandmaster was Mr. John Mackenzie-Rogan (now Colonel), who succeeded Mr. Thomas in March, 1896. Under his direction the Coldstream Guards Band was the first of any British Army Band to tour Canada, and the first of the Guards Bands to visit France at the invitation of the French Government and the approval of King Edward VII. (1907).

When Mackenzie-Rogan took charge of the Band its total strength was thirty-four performers, but when he handed it over to his successor on his retirement the band establishment was sixty-six.

He was the first bandmaster of the Brigade of Guards to be given a commission with substantive rank as Second-Lieutenant in the Army, and this was on the recommendation of King Edward. Passing through other grades, he was promoted to the substantive rank of Lieut.-Colonel in March, 1920. This was the first instance on record of a serving Regimental Bandmaster, or Director of Music, attaining this rank in the British Army.

He was Senior Director of Music of the Brigade of Guards for over twenty years, having charge of the massed bands of the Brigade at the funeral of Queen Victoria, the coronation of King Edward, the funeral of King George V., and at all the State functions or ceremonies attended by the bands of the Brigade of Guards until his retirement from the Army in April, 1920.

Colonel Mackenzie-Rogan's lectures at the Royal United Service Institution, the Royal Academy of Music, the Queen's Hall, and at the principal provincial towns will be well remembered. At the Queen's Hall lecture the Chairman was Field-Marshal Earl Roberts, K.G., K.T., V.C., etc., and in introducing Mackenzie-Rogan, Lord Roberts said, "I believe he is known as a 'Tipperrary Highlander' from the fact that, while his father was an Irishman, his mother was a Scotch woman." He first saw the light of day in the Isle of Wight; he can thus be considered a living embodiment of the motto of the Brigade of Guards, "Tria juncta in Uno."

He joined the Army in February, 1867, served in South Africa, India, Burma and during the Great War in France, Belgium and Italy; is a Commander of the Royal Victorian Order, Officer (or Knight) of the Order of the Crown of Belgium, Cavaliere of the Order of the Crown of Italy, Officer of the Black Star of Benin (France). Has the Silver Medal Queen Victoria's Jubilee, Silver Medal Royal Victorian Order, Long Service Medal, Burma Medal and two clasps (1885-87 and 87-89), Victory Medal, General Service Medal and Coronation Medal (1911).

In October, 1904, Colonel Mackenzie-Rogan was unanimously elected an Honorary Member of the Royal Academy of Music, and in 1907 he was chosen by the Senate of the University of Toronto for the Degree of Doctor of Music (honoris causa), this being the first occasion in the history of the British Army that a Bandmaster was paid high an honour. The fact that the premier musical institution and the Senior University beyond the seas thought fit to bestow this dignity on Colonel Rogan is a compliment, not only to himself and the Household Brigade, but also to the Imperial Forces in general. He is also an Honorary Freeman of the Worshipful Company of Musicians.

The present Director of Music is Lieut. Robert G. Evans, who succeeded Colonel Mackenzie-Rogan in 1920. Mr. Evans served with the Royal Artillery Band at Woolwich as a violinist and cornet player before he was transferred to the Coldstream Guards Band as a musician, to be with his elder brother.

He served some few years with the Coldstream Guards before going to Kneller Hall to qualify for a bandmastership. After passing a very successful examination, he was appointed bandmaster to the Highland Light Infantry, and served with that Regiment until he was specially selected to form the Royal Garrison Artillery Band at Plymouth (a band which was well known to Canadians), and from this band he was promoted to commissioned rank and transferred to the Coldstream Guards.

When a student at Kneller Hall he was assistant professor for the cornet and gained the first prize for composition. The Band of the Highland Light Infantry, under his direction, was chosen to accompany the Imperial Representative Corps to Australia and New Zealand, to attend the inauguration of the Australian Commonwealth.

The Coldstreamers are very proud of the fact that they were the favourite band of the late King Edward VII., and also of Queen Alexandra, and the same may be said of King George V. and Queen Mary.

Lieut. Evans and the members of the band worthily maintain the proud motto of the Regiment, "Nulli Secundus."
